

BSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A sweatband using monofilament yarn for a cap that is made by the monofilament yarn warp-way and a single or two-ply multifilament yarn weft-way without the stitched portion and does not contain polyurethane. The sweatband, which has the good elasticity through the structure of the textile without imposing undue pressure on the wearer may be used without pressure feeling even for a long periods of time and keeps the original shape of the rear side of crown without being drooped down, and preferably provides excellent sweat absorbing capability.